

Sky Princess

The Sky Princess' alter ego is Nevaeh Sky, who lives in Ohio's Queen City, Cincinnati, and is a true eco-warrior at heart. Nevaeh is defined by a strong sense of justice and is a self appointed caretaker for the environment and mankind. Nevaeh desires more than anything to fight the injustices she sees everywhere, with a passion that spills over into righteous anger at times. Hers is a restless energy that resists idleness and laziness she counteracts this by her participation in acting, dancing, composing music and songs with her Father and Mother and of course singing. Nevaeh is truly a rising entertainment star. Nevaeh is constantly driven to push harder, not often stopping to meet her own emotional needs. This is especially the case with regards to her younger brother, who she stoically protects from the world. Nevaeh is truly one of the most valiant warriors of Earth Team Green's Eco-Warriors of The Rainbow Team.

Power Metaphor:

Sky Princess is the poster material for the next generation being she strives to promote how to protect and respect the environment in all of her undertakings with society. As society is made aware of its failings through clean air and drinkable water campaigns. The Sky Princess strives to campaign and fight to correct the damage done by societal ills, many of which shaped her upbringing.

The Sky Princess's Eco-Powers STEM from the Mobius Orb and her super weapon and protector from harm is an ancient Indian War Blanket that has the ability to summon the strength and energy of 10 million buffalo.
